Difference that our work has made....

Name – Karan

Age-7 yrs

Disability-Cerebral Palsy

Karan's some activities caused a great deal of problems for his family. His constant teasing of his siblings, insistence for getting things was giving tough time to his family. He always threw things and hit his siblings. His father Rajendra Prasad was counseled by the volunteer of CWCS to send his son for the therapy. A lot of emphasis was put on regularity for therapy in order to get quicker and better results. With few months of treatment, Karan showed incredible improvements. He was given speech therapy regularly which helped him to utter the most common words. Now he is able to clearly state his needs, hold his parents hands while walking, left insisting for anything and most of all he has stopped fighting with his siblings. It seems that one day Karan would behave completely like any other normal child.

Name- Riya

Age- 3 yrs

Disability- Cerebral Palsy

When Riya came to CWCS centre for the first time she could hardly walk and looked quite weak. It all started when CWCS volunteer had their first interaction with Riya's mother who was completely unsure of any change in Riya's condition. She was callously told by her in-laws, brother-in-law and sister –in-law about the gravity of the ailment. Only on the conviction of CWCS volunteers that her mother decided to start Riya's treatment . She was taken into confidence and told to have patience for six months to get any result. Since mother Joolie Jain was determined to help her child, she followed the instructions and the result was astonishing. Riya was on her feet and was able to walk, run and play. Now proud mother Joolie feels very thankful to CWCS for giving a new lease of life to her child and what more! everyone in her in-laws feel proud of her.

Shami Ahmed

Age – 8 years

Ailment- heart problem

Completely in despair Shami Ahmed's father Nasruddin Mansoori approached CWCS for funding his child's unaffordable treatment. Earning a meagre daily wage, Nasruddin couldn't even dream of getting treating for his 8 year ailing son. Even government hospitals didn't entertain his case. This is where Child & Women Care society came forward to fund medical expenses of the child with the help of its valuable donors who contributed in whatever capacity they could to make this thing possible.

Here is Nasiruddin's story and his gratitude to all the donors and CWCS.....

Future Projects

Empowering by Caring

We would also like to work on.....

- Setting up a School for Spastic Children [SSC] in NCR Delhi
- Starting all women empowerment programme, titled 'Mein Bhi KALPANA CHAWLA Banungi' for young girls.
- Mainstreaming out of school children into regular schools.
